the ninth symphony of ludwig van beethoven with its final choral movement is one of the iconic works of western classical music and yet the story never fully told concerns the months leading to the symphony s world premiere in vienna on 7 may and repeat performance on 23 may 1824 in his new book theodore albrecht brings to life the day to day details that it took to stage that premiere it s a story of negotiating for performance halls and performers payments of hand copying legible scores and individual parts for over 120 performers of finding financiers as well as space and time for rehearsals importantly it is also a story of the relationship between beethoven and the musicians who performed this symphonic masterpiece in fact as the maddening rehearsal schedule towards the symphony's premiere shows it transpires that many passages of the ninth have been tailored to specific orchestral players many modern day musicians will recognize familiar situations in rehearsals many scholars and students will relish unprecedented new detail all this comes to the fore by reconstructing the story drawing on the almost deaf composer's conversation books which beethoven had been using since 1818 in the performance story of the ninth symphony's premiere albrecht makes full use of these invaluable documents which are now being translated for the first time into english in a series of 12 volumes published by the boydell press theodore albrecht professor emeritus of music at kent state university ohio is an award winning beethoven scholar he has authored many important articles on the composer and is the editor of letters to beethoven and other correspondence 1996 as well as translator and editor of beethoven's conversation books boydell press back cover collective memory and the dutch east indies unremembering decolonization examines the afterlife of decolonization in the collective memory of the netherlands it offers a new perspective on the cultural history of representing the decolonization of the dutch east indies and maps out how a contested collective memory was shaped taking a transdisciplinary approach and applying several theoretical frames from literary studies sociology cultural anthropology and film theory the author reveals how mediated memories contributed to a process of what he calls unremembering he analyses in detail a broad variety of sources including novels films documentaries radio interviews memoirs and historical studies to reveal how five decades of representing and remembering decolonization fed into an unremembering by which some key notions were silenced or ignored the author concludes that historians or the historical guild bear much responsibility for the unremembering of decolonization in dutch collective memory
